I will never forget the day in the park. It was a sunny Friday. The day was just another day in my life. After school, when I was walking home, I stopped to look at a shoe store. I looked inside, and felt sorry for myself. I really wanted to have a pair of shoes for my birthday. I knew my mother would buy me new shoes if she could. But I also knew that she had little money. I kept on walking and soon came to the park. There I saw a girl in the wheelchair. The girl moved the wheels with her hands because she had no feet. I looked down at my own feet. I knew it was much better to be without shoes than without feet. I was wrong for feeling so sad. I went home and smiled.

Dear Da-ming,

How are you? This is my first time to write to a foreign pen friend. I hope we can become good friends. I am 13 years old. I live in Cork, the second largest city in Ireland. Many of my friends love sports. Football, for example, is very popular in my school. I enjoy it a lot, but I have not joined any team. I also enjoy cooking and usually cook with my dad on Saturdays. I'm sending you a CD of Irish songs with this letter. Ireland is a country with beautiful music. The songs on this CD tell many sad stories from Irish history. October 9, Monday

When I got up this morning, I was so surprised to find a new watch on my desk. I couldn't help crying.

I lost my old watch last Monday. It was a present from my father for my thirteenth birthday. I still don't know where or how I lost it.

I felt really sad when I couldn't find the watch. I stayed at school to look for it until very late.

When I came home, no one was there. At nine o'clock, Mom called back and told me that Dad was hit by a car on his way to look for me. He was sent to the hospital.

I went to the hospital that night and told Dad I was sorry. I also told him I lost my watch, but he did not get angry.

Dad's left leg was badly hurt, and he stayed in the hospital for several days. He just came back home yesterday, and this morning I found the new watch.

Thank you, Dad, for loving me so much.

Grace: Does she try to bite you when she is hungry?
