How do you go to school? By bus or by bike? The elementary school students on the small Daiso Island, Penghu, Taiwan, go to school in the big Magong City by boat. Why? Because there is no elementary school there.

Going fishing was hard work and there were not enough fish in the sea. Parents on Daiso Island went to big cities with their children for different jobs. The only school there didn't have enough students, so it was closed in 2005.

Now, the students take a boat at 6:40 a.m. to the port in Magong City. Then, they take a taxi to school. It is about 30 minutes. How diligent they are!

Tony: What did you do after dinner?

Meg: I watched the news on TV.

Tony: Was there any special news?

Meg: Yes. Dismal news. There are many big fires in the Amazon rainforest. It's the third week. Animals there don't have safe places to live in, and many died in those fires.

Tony: So sad! Is it the first time?

Meg: No. There are fires in the rainforest every year, from July to November. But it's different this year. Some people burned the rainforest for crops and cows.

Tony: How can we help the Amazon rainforest?

Meg: We can tell our family and friends about the news. Some groups are saving the Amazon rainforest. We can also give money to them.

Tony: That's a good idea. Thank you for telling me.

Meg: Let's save the Amazon rainforest together!
