To 25., more and more teachers are trying a new way of teaching—flipped classroom. The idea of a flipped classroom is to flip the classroom from teacher-centered to student-centered. In a flipped classroom, students spend more time sharing ideas than listening to the teacher's long lecture. Before class, students watch short videos or read the assigned materials by themselves. If they have any questions, they bring them to class. By doing this, teachers can understand students' problems better and then give one-on-one help. In class, besides 26., students also work as a group or work on their own to do many activities or exercises.

However, 27.. It takes teachers more time to prepare for lessons. Before each lesson, they have to find the right materials and get ready for all kinds of questions from students. For students, going over the materials by themselves and trying to get the point can be a really difficult thing to do. Although it takes a lot of work for both teachers and students, students are able to learn better in a flipped classroom.

There was a girl, Jenny, wearing a green ribbon around her neck all the time. Alfred was her classmate and liked her very much. One day he asked her, "Why do you always wear that ribbon?" "I cannot tell you," said Jenny. But Alfred kept asking, "Why do you wear it?" And Jenny would say, "It is not important."

Jenny and Alfred grew up and fell in love. One day they got married. After their wedding, Alfred said, "Now that we are married, you must tell me about the green ribbon." "You still must wait," said Jenny. "I will tell you when the right time comes."

Years passed. Alfred and Jenny grew old. One day Jenny became very sick. The doctor told her she was dying. Jenny called Alfred to her side. "Alfred," she said, "now I can tell you about the green ribbon. Untie it, and you will see why I could not tell you before." Slowly and carefully, Alfred untied the ribbon, and Jenny's head fell off.

Do you have a weight problem? Do you exercise regularly but still can't lose weight, or even worse, get hurt? If your answer is yes, here are some important tips for you.

Exercise helps you lose weight and become healthier, but you may also get hurt from exercising too much. Usually, it would be good to exercise three times a week, 30 to 60 minutes each time. If you want to exercise for more days a week, be sure to take at least one day off. Ask your doctor and exercise coach for advice to find the right exercises for you.

What exercise comes to mind when talking about losing weight? Jogging, biking, or swimming? If weight training is not one of your answers, then you are missing something very important. Weight training helps grow muscle, and muscle helps you lose weight even when you are not doing anything at all. So, if you want to lose weight faster, don't forget weight training.

Exercising before your main meal helps you lose more fat. But remember, if the meal is much bigger than your regular one, you will still get heavier.

These tips are not difficult. Give them a try and exercise smart!
