(Katie is talking to her twelve-year-old brother, Johnny.)

Katie: You look excited. 26

Johnny: Remember Chloe? I'll see her tonight.

Katie: Chloe? I remember you said that you 27 since she moved away.

Johnny: Yes, but I've stayed in touch with her again! Two weeks ago, I logged in Facebook and left the message to look for her.

Katie: Facebook? 28 Isn't it only for those over 30 to use it?

Johnny: I know, but I just used it, and 29! And seriously, with Facebook, I can easily find my old friends.

Katie: Really? How does it go?

Johnny: It's simple. Just log in your email address and it helps find your friends you haven't seen for a long time. I found lots of friends, and make new ones too. I can share pictures or videos, and check on news on Facebook. Wonderful.

Katie: Okay. Interesting. You sound like Dad just learned how to use his new phone the other day. And by the way, 30.

Johnny: No problem! I will.

John is a high school student in America. One day, he got a mail from his girlfriend in Taiwan.
The mail said:

Dear John,

I'm sorry, but it's time to say goodbye. I met someone else. He is handsome and rich. Would you please send my photos back? I want to give them to my new boyfriend.

Mary

John was so mad. He asked his classmates for women's photos (their aunts, mothers, or grandmothers). He put those pictures into a box and then sent it to Mary. Inside the box he also put a letter. The letter said:

Dear Mary,

Sorry. I have too many girlfriends. Please find your photos by yourself.

John

【36~40】

“I am not,” said Amelia Bedelia.
“I am under my covers.”
Amelia Bedelia felt dizzy.
She fell back on her pillow.

8

“You are sick,” said her mother.
“I am calling the school.
You are staying home today.”

9

Amelia Bedelia was happy.
Then she was sad.
“I will miss my friends,” she said.

“I do not want to rain on your parade,”
said her mother,
“but something is going around.”
“Not me,” said Amelia Bedelia.
“I am staying here.”

Before he left for work,
Amelia Bedelia’s father carried her downstairs.

He tucked her in
to his special chair.
“Thanks, Daddy,” said Amelia Bedelia.
“I will check on you later,” he said.

“You may have a fever,”
said Amelia Bedelia’s mother.
“I will find a thermometer to take your temperature.”
She turned on the TV.

13

“Not the weather,” said Amelia Bedelia.
“The weather is boring.”
She did not have the energy to change the channel.
She sighed.
“I am under the weather,” she said.
“And now I am in front of it, too.”

Amelia Bedelia did not know why grown-ups worried about the weather.

Whether it would rain.

Whether
it would snow.

Whether it would freeze or hail or blow.

Amelia Bedelia never worried about it.
She had fun in all kinds of weather.
